Made in.between: Remedy 2020

For the last three years, our University has organized Poznań Art Week – an integrated event offering dozens of exhibitions, lectures, live performances, concerts and curatorial talks that brought together and strengthened the partnership between local art galleries and cultural institutions. This year, the outbreak of coronavirus resulted in many cancellations and postponements of initiatives and festivals in the whole art world. We, however, decided to continue with our idea and transfer this year's edition of Poznań Art Week to the virtual space. It will transform from an intense week filled with art into a permanent platform that is set to launch in May 2020 and intended to operate until further notice.

From the beginning of PAW, one of the permanent elements of its program is an exhibition dedicated to international students of UAP *Made in.between organized in one of UAP municipal galleries Scena Otwarta (previously named R20). Previous editions (Made in.between 2017, Made in.between East:West 2018, Made in.between How to be an alien 2019) gained popularity among viewers and created a great opportunity to bring the closer look to the international community of art students in Poznań. This year, we would like to continue with the tradition of Made in.between following the main theme of PAW – Remedy.

"Remedy – the idiom of Poznań Art Week 2020 – is an ambiguous word that today can be found in almost all media in the world. It is used with high expectations and with hope. People turn their eyes toward laboratories where scientists are doing their utmost to find a cure for the SARS-CoV-2 coronavirus raging all over the globe – a virus that has radically changed our reality over just a couple of months.

We chose the word remedy as the idiom for the 4th edition of Poznań Art Week in October 2019. Back then, nothing suggested the events that were about to unfold. The theme of our art show was originally supposed to refer to the ambiguity of the title that oscillates between art being the synonym for a medicament and the artistic practice based on reusing existing objects and meanings (the Polish version of the title – Remedium – bears semblance to the phrase that means to reuse a medium). The outbreak of the global epidemic has unexpectedly created a new way for interpreting our event. The word remedy has gained new meanings. (...)" Full curatorial text → link

Each year the Made in.between exhibition is a result of an open call dedicated to UAP Study in English full-time students and exchange students studying at UAP for the period of their mobility. We are happy to launch an open call for Made in.between Remedy 2020 now.

We are looking forward to seeing your proposals presenting works done during the isolation. They can refer to the current state of the quarantine and pandemic or, more general, feeling distanced from your home country as a foreign student. Think about how current state and how the Remedy can work in this new social situation. What is the new normal? How can it change one's worldview? How can art help during the lockdown? Feel free to take these and any different question popping these days under the consideration.
